Belle Glade's city election next Tuesday won't offer a line on election trends as they might affect the November national election. Unless you consider it an omen to note that the present "majority bloc" is maintained or turned into the "minority" as the result of Belle Glade voters' action. — PED —

Floridians are billionaires. That is, when it comes to paying taxes. Last year Floridians' total tax bill to federal, state, county and municipal governments was $1,628,083,000, according to the State Chamber of Commerce. — PED —

The State Road prison softball team at Largo didn't win the pennant in the St. Petersburg city recreation summer program but was awarded the Sportsmanship Plaque for the second consecutive year. BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH: No wonder Ringling Brothers called it quits and went out of business. A bigger show has come along.

More people watched the recent political shows (pardon us, conventions) in Chicago and San Francisco than witnessed all performances of the famous Ringling Brothers circus during its entire life span.

We got no surprises, but the shows were generally good. The Chicago act was not as exciting as the Chicago opener. In fact, there were times when it was rather dull.

Only twice in the Republican drama were we excited enough to lay down our magazines and concentrate on the TV screen. The first was the arrival of the President at the airport and his trip in the glass topped car to the hotel.

The second moment came when we were stirred from our drowsiness by a voice trying to nominate our old friend, "Joe Smith." We awoke suddenly and put hot water on for a cup of instant coffee. We would sit up all night to hear this! But, almost before the convention could open up it had been closed again by the voice of Joe Martin saying, "Nominations for Vice-President are closed." Eisenhower and Nixon were no surprise. As we wrote several months ago, the Republicans should have stayed in Washington—and saved a million bucks.

It was almost the same in Chicago — although we must say the Democrats were more exciting show. The crowds were more like a circus. When "Mr. Sam" was they kept calling him, banged his gavel for order, no one paid any attention. This was wonderful. (By the way, nobody in Washington calls Rayburn "Mr. Sam." When they speak to him to his face they call him "Mr. Speaker" and when some of them mention him behind his back they call him things that are unprintable. But the thing, I must have heard him called is "Mr. Sam.")

Out of that one we got Stevenson and Kefauver. In Florida, where Kefauver was whipped, and in Georgia, where they don't like him anyway—this was somewhat of a disappointment. But, many think this combination can whip the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket. The race certainly will be a better one than last time. And less than 10% of the total vote properly placed, could change the out-

OPEN LETTER TO PARENTS
Pahokee, Fla.
Sept. 5, 1956

Dear Parents:

School has started and this should be the most important thing to us as parents, second only to our respective churches.

Out children spend 30 hours each week in the classrooms of our public schools, and it is our duty to support their teachers and the school. The best way we can do this is through the Pahokee Parent-Teacher Association.

Please mark PTA, 8 p.m. on your calendars on the second Monday of each month. Sept. 10 we will have the first meeting of the year and the program will be "get acquainted, meet the teachers, and see your child's classroom." Please be there.

Remember, "our children are our investments in the future of America."

See you in PTA.

come over 1952.

Floridians wanted Governor Collins on the ticket—and they tried. With Congressman Bob Sikes repeatedly voting his "sunshine" votes for the popular governor, Georgians were happy when Governor Griffin nominated Congressman Davis — and they enjoyed being loyal to a native son.

Now that the race is under way — it is anybody's guess. But it is too sure that Eisenhower will be a shoo-in. The odds certainly seem to be in his favor today. But, there are more voters in this country than Republicans — a lot of them voted for Eisenhower because they hated Truman. Betters would be a sort of illness in the White House could scare a lot of people. These two factors could swing a lot of votes. Also, Dr. Stevenson and Kefauver, the Democrats have men who know how to campaign and get votes.

Yes, the old circus is out of business. The new one is coming along. We saw the opening "side shows" in Chicago and San Francisco — but the main attraction is now going on in the big tent — admission free. Besides, if you have a touch of "circus blood" in your veins you are well come to get into the act.

"Too good to be true" is an accusation which occasionally I have heard flung from person to person.

Never did I think I would be sitting here, a brooding wreck, thinking about another dog. There are days when I think I shouldn't have learned to read. Then I wouldn't know about Toby, who lives in Miami.

Toby, half Spitz and half Pekingese (this may account for his out-of-season behavior), was the subject of a newspaper article. An alarm bell rang in my mind when the article pointed out that he does "cute and frequently useful tricks."

Agh. As an old trick-doer, I admit mine are "frequently useful" in producing a forbidden extra calory or two, but this Toby is a real do-gooder with his tricks.

Witness: the article says he "seemed born with the ability to tell time," and that the family stopped setting its alarm clock. Toby "knew what time each member of the family needed to get up and invariably awakened them on the dot."

Wow, around here that would get me a clap on the chops and a few unkind words. And possibly no breakfast.

Then there was the time the family's pet chick died. Toby, that happy fella, scratched to go out and came back in a little later with a mocking bird in his mouth, live and unharmed.

Toby makes Toby America's first canine birdwatcher, I suppose.

Well, anyhow, that's the tenor of the article.

Toby is so good that Gaines' food wouldn't melt in his mouth, I hope Toby never has any pups.

His spreading influence could make it awfully hard on the rest of us dogs.

Besides, who wants to be an alarm clock?

Highway Patrol Needs Troopers

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida Highway Patrol is in the need of training 43 new state highway troopers, but it needs applications to fill a new quota of 30 men for another school which will start here in October. Comdr. H. N. Kirkman said this week that application blanks may be secured from any patrol station in the state or by writing the patrol at the Martin Building in Tallahassee.

Trainees receive $200 a month for the two months training school and automatically are raised to $275 a month after that time; they receive automatic $15 a year raises until reaching $350 a year at the end of five years.

Requirements include a height of 5 feet 8½ inches in stocking feet, 160 pounds weight, 21 to 35 years of age, at least a high school graduate and applicants must have been residents of the state for at least two years.

The patrol is engaged in training new men authorized by the special 1956 session of the legislature so that its strength will be up to at least 400 men on the highways by early 1957.

It's Official--Glades Area Top Vegetable Center

Glades boosters would do well to put a "bee in the bonnet" of the Hon. Sinclair Weeks, a member of President Eisenhower's cabinet by virtue of being the federal government's Secretary of Commerce.

The "bee" would be simply this: When you are speaking of vegetable growing in Palm Beach County, sub, you mean vegetable growing in the Glades.

Secretary Weeks has released results of a recent survey of vegetable growing counties in the U.S. Now it's official again: Palm Beach County is one of the nation's greatest vegetable producing counties.

Transplanted, it means The Glades is one of the very top spots — if not the top — concentrated vegetable-growing areas in the whole of the U.S.A.

Slipping the words "The Glades" in where the official survey stated "Palm Beach County," you get these results: THE GLADES tops all U.S. counties in sweet corn harvested for sale, with 17,352 acres in 1954. Second was a Wisconsin county with 11,780 acres. No other Florida counties ranked in the top 100 nationally in corn.

THE GLADES topped all U.S. counties in snap beans — bush or pole types — harvested for sale, with 32,968 acres under cultivation. Broward County was second with 10,642 acres and Erie County, New York third.

In cabbage acreage, THE GLADES was fifth with 2,248 acres. St. Johns County ranking third with 4,048 acres.

In total vegetables harvested for sale, THE GLADES ranked fourth nationally in

Dairy Barns Need Good Light... Clean Lamps Often for Best Results

FARM LIGHTING DIFFERS—here's barn with flush-type ceiling lights.

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau
Good lighting is something that few of us take seriously enough. Maybe we just get accustomed to squinting in poor light. More to the point, however, is the fact that we don't think how much faster and better we could work if there was more light on our work.

Dairy barns, particularly, need proper illumination if farmers are to maintain a high degree of cleanliness and spot those injuries to cows which might not be discovered otherwise. Lighting installations are a matter of preference. Some farmers prefer ordinary incandescent bulbs. Others like flush type fixtures, such as those shown above... or fluorescent lamps, like those in the barn to the right.

Whichever type of lamp you install, base your selection on getting the most out of your lighting system. Also consider the kind that you will clean regularly. Dust-covered lamps cut down on your ability to see as well as they should. To help guide farmers in determining their lighting requirements, the Industry Committee on Interior Wiring Design has drawn up some valuable recommendations. Here's what the Committee says about dairy barns, for example: Install one lighting outlet for every 2 or 3 stalls in center line of litter alley, or slightly off center if necessary to clear manure loader. In the feed alley, install one lighting outlet every 10 to 15 feet on center line. Wiring installations for each alley should be individually controlled by their own wall switches. These recommendations are for incandescent lamps. For fluorescent lamps, the outlets should be located to suit the installation planned. Proper lighting on the job and on the light leading to the job is a form of insurance against accidents that no farmer can be without.

Baked Russett Potatoes are Harvest Treat

It's harvest time, and meal planning is fun with so many choice fresh vegetables and fruits available and now is a good time to treat the family to its favorite baked potatoes. Growers in Washington State report that the new crop of these famous Russett bakers are plentiful in the markets, crisp and fresh and at the peak of their eating goodness. Washington Russets, according to potato experts are the best of the bakers because they are grown in volcanic soil and are so high in minerals, with a delicious, meaty fluffiness—a perfect accompaniment with any kind of meat, poultry or fish. Serve right from the oven with a generous pat of butter or scoop out and stuff as directed below.

FOUR DELICIOUS STUFFINGS FOR BAKED RUSSET POTATOES

Cheese Stuffing: File fluffy mashed potatoes lightly into potato shells. Sprinkle with paprika and grated American or cheddar cheese. Return to oven for 6 minutes under broiler for few minutes to brown.

Chive Stuffing: To filling for 6 potatoes add 1 to 2 tsp. finely chopped chives.

Mushroom Stuffing: To filling for 6 potatoes add 1/2 cup chopped or sliced, sautéed mushrooms and 1/4 tsp. Worcestershire sauce.

Pimento Stuffing: To filling for 6 potatoes, add 3 tps. finely chopped pimento.

GLADES QUIZ:

TEJ GAE & RWOC ESFLI

Q. Here we go again . . . okay, what does it mean?

A. Rwoc Esfli — means, simply, Crow Flies.

Q. Easy. So what?

A. I'm workin' on an idea . . . stay with me. Shortest distance between two points is the way the crow flies.

Q. That's an oldie. You've got things backwards. What is that "Tej Gae?"

A. Means Jet Age. It's coming — soon, too — to Palm Beach County. Could have great effect on Glades economy.

Q. Good. What's that got to do with GLADES OBSERVER and LAKE SHORE PRESS?

A. Plenty. Point is, in the Jet Age, shortest distance between two points is the way the jets get there, and fast.

Q. Elucidate.

A. Shortest between what you want and what you get when it comes to printing ain't necessarily the shortest distance.

Q. Huh?

A. Quickest and best printing can be ordered — in this Jet Age — by getting on the phone and calling Lake Shore Press at Pahokee 571.

Q. Now you're talking! Quality printing, I know!

A. Sure, and most of the Glades growers, packing plants and businessmen know about our superior quality printing . . . any and all kinds of office forms they might need, including our famous TIME-$SAVERS snap-out forms.

Q. You say it's the Jet Age. . .

A. Yep, and we've got up-to-the-minute new equipment to turn out job printing with Jet Age speed, too.

Q. In other words, the best way to get Jet Age printing is to . . .

A. . . . You've got it! Call Lake Shore Press at Pahokee 571 and we'll come a runnin' with estimates, layouts and designs.

Q. Hail the Jet Age.

A. Hail!

Church Activities In The Glades

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, Belle Glade CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP, Canal Point

The vital importance of honoring God in thought and deed will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" is the Golden Text from Proverbs (22:1): "A good name is more precious than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold."

The importance of spiritual values will be emphasized in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (239:5). "Take away wealth, health, and social organizations, which weigh not one jot in the balance of God, and we get clearer views of Principle. Break up cliques, level wealth with poverty, let worth be judged according to wisdom, and we get better views of humanity." Scriptural selections to be read include the following (Proverbs 3:9): "Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of thine increase."

BG BAPTISTS HONOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

College students who are members of the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade were honored at a fellowship program Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Figueroa. The Baptist Student Union was the theme of the program, and Jim Bill Geer was in charge. Those who will enter college as freshmen this fall were given pointers on campus life by previous classmates. Soon-to-be-freshmen attending were: Miss Jane Col and James Chambers, University of Miami; Leo James and Marvin Bergman, University of Florida; Frances Sloan, Louisiana College; Marybeth Schlechter, Mather School of Nursing; Alice Faye Herring, Stetson University; Joyce Geron, FSU; Jamie Steele, Charron-Williams Business College.

Following the program given refreshments were served by Miss Pat Figueroa.

COFFEE: A Conversation Piece

Of all the groceries in daily American use, few have as legendary and romantic a background as coffee. Some of its colorful facts and traditions make conversation pieces almost as stimulating as the beverage itself.

One Arabian legend relates that coffee came into use when it "got the goats" of a herdsman named Kaldi. He reported to the monks of a monastery that his flock went into a frolicsome dance after eating berries off a certain tree. When the cleric boiled the berries in water, he discovered an exhilarating brew which helped his monks to stay awake during midnight prayers.

This monastic coffee ritual was the predecessor of the daily coffee a cup of black coffee—charged to Turkey.

In the U.S., Boston's Green Dragon coffee house was called "headquarters of the Revolution" by Daniel Webster, and the Merchantry House in New York was the scene of Washington's presidential reception. A forerunner of the Boston Tea Party—when colonists dressed as Indians dumped British tea into the harbor to protest taxes, accelerated coffee's popularity in this country. Today, Americans drink more than 300 million cups of coffee a day. In addition to its role in adventure, history and literature, coffee—or the lack of it—has been the point of issue in the courtroom. In Turkey, at one time, a husband's failure to provide coffee for his wife was legitimate grounds for divorce. In the affairs of the heart, Madame du Barry was among ladies who were wooed with gifts of coffee, and Bach's Coffee Cantata sings of a girl who insists on a marriage contract stating that she may have coffee whenever she wishes. Nowadays, discriminating hostesses recognize its importance at social gatherings.

To Napoleon, coffee was something that "gives me warmth, an unusual force," General Sherman, in his remarks on troops, it was "something to be carried along, even at the expense of bread." To the English clergyman and humorist Sydney Smith, it was "the intellectual beverage."

Name your favorite phase of history and research will show where coffee has played a part. And, concerning its popularity in America today—our largest imported commodity—the beverage will undoubtedly continue to be part of the backdrop for memorable events.

Jay, who have spent the summer at their cottage near Sahu, N.C., have returned to their home here.

Mrs. F. W. Quinn spent the holiday weekend visiting friends in Ocala and Orlando.

Miss Karin Allison left Monday for Fayetteville, Ark. where she will enter the freshman class of University of Arkansas.

free break enjoyed by millions of American workers and housewives. In a survey among plant managers, 82% credited coffee breaks with a reduction in worker fatigue and 65% said they increased productivity.

Coffee has also been a factor in adventure and espionage. The famed Polish spy, Franz Kolchitzky, who saved Vienna from being occupied by the Nazis, was the first Viennese coffee house. As reward for his heroic exploits, including swimming the Danube several times to circumvent enemy lines, he was given sacks of green coffee abandoned by the fleeing Turks.

Today, you can find coffee houses in nearly every metropolis of Europe, many with their own history of famous patrons and epochal events. In England, Samuel Johnson established the Turk's Head coffee house which became a gathering place for artists and writers of his era. It is rumored that in the archives of the old Cafe Central in Herentlaere there is an unpaid bill for caution with relatives and friends in New York City. Their daughter, Eugenia, is touring Europe with her aunt, Miss Helen McCabe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Faulk and family have returned from spending most of the summer with relatives and friends in Tennessee.

TO UNVEIL GLADES GRIDDERS FRIDAY AT CLEWISTON CLINIC

Glades football fans can get a preview glimpse of their favorite high school teams next Friday night by trekking to Clewiston for the annual Glades Football Clinic.

Beginning at 8:15 p.m., the four Glades high schools will give a strictly educational, non-combat demonstration for fans. Clewiston's team will demonstrate offense formations, Belle

BIG TURNOUT WATCHES BOY SCOUT SHOW

Approximately 150 persons saw the elaborate "pardon night" program presented by Pahokee Boy Scout Troop 28 in celebration of the dedication of the new Boy Scout Beach for public use.

Highlight of the program was the Indian ceremonial dance planned and directed by Joey Alderman and led by "Big Chief" Carol Watson. Kenneth Williamson, Eagle Scout and vice chief of the Glades Chapter of the Order of the Arrow, was narrator for the corn dance and other Indian ceremonies. Each Scout in the Indian performance made his own costume.

Also featured were Watson, who gave a demonstration of the making of fire by friction, Jeff Barwick in a hula dance, and a guitar duet by Williamson and Roger Watson. Several comedy skits were presented by the various patrols, with Scoutmasters Louis Mims, Ed Carver and Jappy Lindorse joining in the fun.

Tony Corotenuto, scoutmaster of the Boynton Beach troop, was introduced as guest of honor by Scoutmaster Mims, who expressed gratitude for the assistance Mr. Corotenuto has given Troop 28 in the solving of several of its problems. Talks were given by Manning I. Keen, Lions' Boy Scout Committee chairman, Sgt. H. M. Burkhardt, USAF, and George King, field executive of the Gulf Stream Council, BSA.

David Watkins and Carol Watson, senior patrol leaders, acted as masters of ceremony. Kenneth Williamson was in charge of music and songs, with Joey Alderman assisting.

Almost 16 million acres of Florida timberland are inadequately stocked. But many of them can be returned to former productivity if uncontrolled fire is kept out, for this permits natural seedling stands to become established.

ANOTHER OPERATION FOR LT. HOOKS

CANAL POINT — Friends of Lt. Stanley Hooks, who crashed June 13 in a jet plane near Valdosta, Ga., will be sorry to learn that he had to undergo surgery again yesterday morning at Brooke Hospital, San Antonio, Tex. Delmar Hooks, father of Stanley, stated that this was the fifth operation to graft skin on his elbow. Stanley was expected home about the 15th of this month but now the date of his homecoming is indefinite.

Farm Tract Sold Near Lake Harbor

LAKE HARBOR—Announcement has been made of the sale of 2,488 acres of land south of Lake Harbor on the Boles and Miami Canals. The tract was bought by a syndicate from Ohio. The sellers were Wico, Inc., of Belle Glade. The price is indicated by stamps on the deed to be $130,600.00.

The transaction was handled by Bob Douthett, an associate of Thurmond W. Knight, broker of Pahokee.

The Miami Canal is being widened and deepened for a distance of eight miles from Lake Okechobee, where a new pumping station is being built. When completed there will be a road on the levee affording access to and additional 10,000 to 15,000 acres of new land for development. These improvements will add considerable to the Lake Harbor area.

CALL ISSUED TO GIRL SCOUT LEADERS

The Girl Scout movement in Pahokee for the current school year will get its "kick-off" next Wednesday afternoon with the Neighborhood Association meets for an organizational meeting at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Clyde Canipe, association chairman, says her army of women plan to have a Girl Scout program three times as big as last year's program. In place of only two troops last year, it is planned to have six troops — one each for grades two through seven.

Invited to attend the Wednesday meeting, which will begin at 3 p.m., are all persons who have been past leaders or who are potential leaders in the Scout movement, including organization chairman, troop committeemen and troop committee members.

To spur interest in next week's meeting, Mrs. Canipe urges all women to bring some sort of home-made craft so leaders can compare notes on how to teach crafts to the Scouts.

For example, Mrs. Canipe says she'll bring a "Buddy Burner," a gadget used for cooking on Scout outings. She made it out of a No. 10 tin can and a tuna fish can. The device burns tallow to create heat.

At next week's meeting, Mrs. F. S. Parrish will give a report on preliminary work in setting up troop organizations.

Mrs. Canipe has especially extended an invitation to newcomers in Pahokee, who have had Girl Scout experience elsewhere to attend the meeting.

"We have an ambitious Scout program envisioned for this year," she said, "and we can make it a successful one if we continue to get good cooperation."
